

Ignazio Loi

- Born in Cagliari on December 22, 1951, Dr. Loi graduated in Medicine and Surgery with a specialization in Dentistry and Dental Prosthetics from the University of Cagliari (Italy).
- He is an active member of the Italian Academy of Prosthetic Dentistry and an Adjunct Professor at the University of Pisa and the San Raffaele Vita-Salute University of Milan.
- He is co-author of the book "Peripheral Bone Remodeling: Scientific Background and Clinical Implications", Editor: Quintessence.
- He co-authored the chapter "Systematic Approach to Immediate Loading in the Anterior Group" in the book "Il Carico Immediato".
- He is the author and co-author of numerous scientific publications.
- He practices his profession in Cagliari (Italy).
- He collaborates with Sweden & Martina.
- His B.O.P.T. technique revolutionized the world of fixed prosthesis preparations.